Be the master not the victim of your feelings... self control.

We are writing our Student Behaviour Support Document. This document details what we do about behaviour in the school. One aspect of this is called: Roles, Rights and Responsibilities of community members. Our community members are: students, teachers and parents/carers. Each member has ‘rights’ and a ‘role’ to play.

I’m interested to know what you think about the rights, role and responsibilities of parents/carers. What we know is that when home and school work together the impact of that on your child’s learning is huge!

Dear Parents,

On Sunday we listened to the Gospel of Luke and heard three well-known parables, The Lost Sheep, The Lost Coin and the Lost Son. Each of these parables are easy to read to your children and to talk about what the story is teaching us. You may take some time to do just that! Luke 15: 1-32

The Parable of the Lost Sheep
Now the tax collectors and sinners were all gathering around to hear Jesus. But the Pharisees and the teachers of the law muttered, “This man welcomes sinners and eats with them.”
Then Jesus told them this parable: “Suppose one of you has a hundred sheep and loses one of them. Doesn’t he leave the ninety-nine in the open country and go after the lost sheep until he finds it? And when he finds it, he joyfully puts it on his shoulders and goes home. Then he calls his friends and neighbors together and says, ‘Rejoice with me; I have found my lost sheep.’ I tell you that in the same way there will be more rejoicing in heaven over one sinner who repents than over ninety-nine righteous persons who do not need to repent.

The Parable of the Lost Coin
“Or suppose a woman has ten silver coins and loses one. Doesn’t she light a lamp, sweep the house and search carefully until she finds it? And when she finds it, she calls her friends and neighbors together and says, ‘Rejoice with me; I have found my lost coin.’ In the same way, I tell you, there is rejoicing in the presence of the angels of God over one sinner who repents.”

The Parable of the Lost Son
Jesus continued: “There was a man who had two sons. The younger one said to his father, ‘Father, give me my share of the estate.’ So he divided his property between them.
“Not long after that, the younger son got together all he had, set off for a distant country and there squandered his wealth in wild living. After he had spent everything, there was a severe famine in that whole country, and he began to be in need. So he went and hired himself out to a citizen of that country, who sent him to his fields to feed pigs. He longed to fill his stomach with the pods that the pigs were eating, but no one gave him anything.
“When he came to his senses, he said, ‘How many of my father’s hired servants have food to spare, and here I am starving to death! I will set out and go back to my father and say to him: Father, I have sinned against heaven and against you. I am no longer worthy to be called your son; make me like one of your hired servants.’ So he got up and went to his father.
“But while he was still a long way off, his father saw him and was filled with compassion for him; he ran to his son, threw his arms around him and kissed him.
“The son said to him, ‘Father, I have sinned against heaven and against you. I am no longer worthy to be called your son.’
“But the father said to his servants, ‘Quick! Bring the best robe and put it on him. Put a ring on his finger and sandals on his feet. Bring the fattened calf and kill it. Let’s have a feast and celebrate. For this son of mine was dead and is alive again; he was lost and is found.’ So they began to celebrate.
“Meanwhile, the older son was in the field. When he came near the house, he heard music and dancing. So he called one of the servants and asked him what was going on. ‘Your brother has come,’ he replied, ‘and your father has killed the fattened calf because he has him back safe and sound.’
“The older brother became angry and refused to go in. So his father went out and pleaded with him. But he answered his father, ‘Look! All these years I’ve been slaving for you and never disobeyed your orders. Yet you never gave me even a young goat so I could celebrate with my friends. But when this son of yours who has squandered your property with prostitutes comes home, you kill the fattened calf for him!’
“‘My son,’ the father said, ‘you are always with me, and everything I have is yours. But we had to celebrate and be glad, because this brother of yours was dead and is alive again; he was lost and is found.’”

This Friday we will be having our school event of the Imagination Foundation’s ‘Global Cardboard Challenge’. Between morning tea and lunch (11.10-1.10) in the Dalaipi Centre classes will either display creations they have already constructed from cardboard, or actively design and create from their imagination. Last week some of the Prep children spent time designing and making a cardboard city complete with shoe shops, fire stations and houses. We hope you are able to come and enjoy our creativity.

Have a wonderful holiday. See you next term.

Kind Regards,
Jo Scott-Pegum

Dear Families
For the past few years Our Lady of the Way has had an Angel Network.

The Angel Network is made up of OLW family volunteers. The purpose of the Angel Network is to help out families that are ‘in need’ for a short period due to a member of the family being ill, in hospital or if the family has suffered a loss or traumatic event. We help by providing meals to the family during that difficult time.

If you would like to be on the Angel Network please contact, Helen Ryan : email hryan@bne.catholic.edu.au or mobile 0409516554

LEARNING ENRICHMENT CENTER NEWS

A number of students from Our Lady of the Way have entered stories to a national writing competition. Here is a fantastic effort by Paris. Enjoy.

I wonder, is this the end?

I can’t believe that I’m doing this. Going out in the dead of night. All I can see around me is pitch black. I’m terrified. I have to find them. Where am I going?

I’m leaving the house. A Nazi truck is coming, I have to hide. Here I am, Jacob, a fourteen year old Jewish boy, going out searching at 2:00am to find them. Good the Nazi’s have passed. I better move quickly. Only hour until I get to the city.

Everyone’s said that’s where they’ve been taken. They must be there. Argh! My feet are killing me, I need to sit down but there’s not enough time. Get on your feet and keep walking. Almost there. Only fifteen minutes now.

Oh no, another Nazi truck. I dive into the bushes and many sharp twigs and broken branches pierce my skin. I’ve got to keep going. I’ve got to try and think about something else, something other than the throbbing pain that is in my feet and arms. I’ll think about my family. I’ve got to save them. I’m their only hope.

I can see the buildings up ahead. The City is different to how everyone described it. It’s much darker and depressing. It seems like the only colour is on the flags that are hanging from the balconies. No one’s on the streets, but I guess that is to be suspected at 4:30am. I can’t see anyone through the windows of the many buildings that are crammed into the many streets. Most of the buildings are either half demolished or burnt to ashes. What has happened to this once beautiful place?

I duck quickly into a narrow ally that leads to another wide street. As I come out of the ally I see a procession of Jewish people like me. I can tell because they are wearing armbands with a yellow star. I quickly join the group to see if I can find my family. The Nazis spot me.

Oh no, one’s pointing a gun at my head. I freeze. I can’t understand what they’re saying. Another Nazi hands me an armband. I’m part of the group now. Where are we going? Where are they taking us? I try to walk faster to see if I can see my family ahead but my feet won’t let me walk any faster. Oh no, I’m slowing down.

Again, another Nazi is shouting at me, I have to walk faster. I’m speeding up. Why are we at the train station? Every one’s crowding onto the train. Is that Mum? It is, I’ve got to do something. “Mum, it’s me, Jacob your son!”

I’m shouting out but no one’s listening. I must shout louder. Another Nazi, what now. He’s just staring at me as I’m shouting. Now he’s yelling at me. Oh no, now he’s got a gun to my head.

Blood dripping from my head as all my memories come rushing through my mind, I wonder, is this the end?
