Women's Night of Spirituality

Geraldine Doogue
Wife, mother, television and radio presenter will introduce:

Angela Catterns:
Broadcasting Angela Catterns has interviewed many people from pop-stars to Prime Ministers in her more than three decades of work in the media. In her latest role as ambassador for Habitat for Humanity, Angela turned brickie’s labourer when she travelled to Cambodia to build homes for the “Hands and Hearts” project. Creating new beginnings for those most vulnerable, Angela was part of an Australian delegation which will build 140 homes over two years, transforming the lives of those they help, as well as their own.

Leanne Phillips:
Leanne Phillips is a difficult woman to define. Mentor, coach, trainer, lecturer and natural therapist, Leanne says she wakes each day knowing she is connected to the creator. Her Aboriginality is just one facet that’s helped shape her unique spirituality. She believes each of us has the potential to live the life we want, rather than be tortured by our past. With her mantra “I am the change I want to see in the world,” Leanne sees her role as a beacon of light helping others on their journey.

Kathy Beck:
Married with two teenage sons, Kathy shares the ups and downs of living with breast cancer since the age of 40 and how her life has been, amazingly, enriched. Laugh, cry and be inspired by the story of the life and death of her “boobs” - 1977 to 2011. The heart of her message is to not be scared, or defined, by what in reality are two small words, "Breast Cancer".
